Summer Reading Tips:

- Interact with Books! Encourage your child to respond to a book by creating artwork, by acting out the story, or by keeping a book journal.
- Build Vocabulary! Be on the lookout for new and interesting vocabulary within texts. Use the new words in conversations.
- Dig Deep! Ask questions about characters' behaviors and actions, authors' messages, problems and solutions in the stories. Did your child's predictions come true?
- Read Aloud! Don't forget the power of read-alouds; they foster listening comprehension and visualization. Compare your mental images to your child's.
- One More Time! Have your child re-read familiar texts to build fluency and confidence!
- READ, READ, and READ some more!
